

The Way the Iroquois Lived

By Owen Jewell

Where did they live

The Iroquois lived in upstate New York near the Great lakes.

Shelter

The Iroquois shelter was the longhouse made out of birch bark.

Clothes and Hunting Tools

The Iroquois used bow and arrows and traps to hunt animals. They used animal skin for clothes.

Food

The Iroquois ate corn, beans, squash and animal meat.

Conclusion

My favorite thing I learned was that the Iroquois were the Algonquians enemies in brutal wars.