

Native American

How They Lived

By Andrew Johnson

Where did they live

Native Americans lived in the state of New York and near Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

Shelter

They lived in long houses, some were over the size of a foot ball field. They were built with birch wood.

Clothing/Tools/Hunting weapons

The Iroquois used oak, birch, pine and maple trees for tools and hunting weapons. Deer skin was used for clothing.

Food

- They ate fish, deer and bear meat they also ate corn and beans.

Conclusion

I loved my project I learned a lot about Native Americans from it and I hope we get to do a another one.
