Monthly Look Back

Another month has come and gone. I'm quite certain they are getting even faster. I hope you and your child had a great spring break. We were fortunate to have a few very nice days at the beginning of it. With break, it made April a bit shorter in the classroom. As always, the kids were hard at work growing and developing. Thinking back there aren't too many individual moments that stick out to me to highlight. However, this means the month went really smoothly. Energy was positive in the room. Work ethics were strong and willingness to try new things was evident. I've really enjoyed having the opportunity to work with each child in the room this year. These last two months will fly by. I hope your child cherishes them as much as I plan to!

Mr. Baker

Spring is in the air

As the days get longer and the weather gets nicer I just wanted to write a quick note about attire. I don't foresee any issues, but please remember to make sure all clothing is school appropriate and that your child is dressing for the weather. Please refer to the code of conduct with any clothing concerns, or ask me directly. Also, please make sure to send in sneakers on B & D days for P.E. if your child wears sandals during the day. Lastly, I hope your child utilizes every opportunity to get outside and enjoy this beautiful weather!

Instagram Account

Many of you continue to follow our Instagram account. The kids love when their images and pictures being share. I hope it's become a better tool of staying updating more regularly. If you're not on there yet, check it out and join the fun!

Topics Covered:

Math: We wrapped up working with arrays and the kids did a great job with it. We recently began some work with graphs and will be moving to time and money soon.

CKLA: We are wrapping up our unit on "The Job Hunt" this week and will beginning a story about Medieval Times!

S.S.: The kids really enjoyed the mythology unit and wrote their own myths with made up creatures. We are starting a unit on the human body next week.

Science: We've dove into the world of liquids this past month. We are studying how they have no definite shape and have different viscosities.

Spelling: Our spelling continues to line up with our CKLA work and lessons in class. Please make sure your child is practicing their words at home.
